Ike Discusses Successor for Stricken Dulles

President Accepts Formal Resignation

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower today formally accepted the resignation of John Foster Dulles as secretary of state and conferred by telephone with the cancer-stricken Cabinet officer on the selection of his successor.

The White House said a new secretary would be named "within a few days."

EISENHOWER, IN accepting Dulles' decision to quit with "deepest personal regret," simultaneously named the ailing secretary "as a consultant to me and the State Department in international affairs."

The chief executive conferred Wednesday night and again this morning by telephone with Dulles who is battling recurrent cancer at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington.

PRESS SECRETARY James C. Hagerty said the President and the secretary discussed the selection of a successor and the manner in which Dulles, although grievously ill, will continue to serve Eisenhower as an elder statesman and consultant on foreign affairs.

Dulles' letter to the President was dated Wednesday and stated simply, "It is apparent to me that I shall not be well enough soon enough to continue to serve as secretary of state."

Eisenhower, accepting the resignation which will become effective when the new secretary has been nominated, confirmed by the Senate and sworn in, was unstinted in his praise of Dulles.

"AS A STATESMAN of world stature, you have set a record in the stewardship of our foreign relations that stand clear and strong for all to see," the President wrote Dulles in an affectionate letter signed "D. E."

"By this letter," the President added, "I request you to serve in the future, to whatever extent your health will permit, as a consultant to me and the State Department in international affairs. I know that all join me in the fervent hope that you will be able to continue the important contributions that only you can make toward a just peace in the world."

EISENHOWER ALSO conferred at breakfast this morning here on the subject of a successor to Dulles. The President had a breakfast conference at the Augusta National Golf Club with Hagerty, Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, the White House staff secretary, and Gordon Gray, special assistant to the President for national security affairs.

The President, according to Hagerty, also conferred by telephone Wednesday with Acting Secretary Christian A. Herter, widely accepted in administration circles as the man most likely to succeed Dulles.

HAGERTY SAID their conversation dealt with "State Department matters" and did not bear on the vacancy caused by Dulles' resignation.

The White House also reported today that public expression of regret over the illness of Dulles and his decision to leave was pouring into the President's offices in Washington and here in Augusta.

Hagerty called it "a very large flood of messages" running into the thousands.

THE PRESS SECRETARY said he expected the President to remain here until next Monday. Tentatively, the President was expected back in Washington Monday afternoon.

The President played golf this morning with Goodpaster and Gray before they returned to Washington.

As Eisenhower worked on the details incident to selection of a new secretary, it was believed in administration circles that the chief executive would move increasingly into the field of personal diplomacy regardless of his choice of a successor to Dulles.

Four Cubans Hijack Plane, Fly to Miami

19 Passengers Aboard Held By Miami Police

MIAMI, Fla. —(UPI)— Four Cuban men — three of them claiming to have escaped from rebel firing squads — hijacked a Cuban airliner at gunpoint today and forced the pilot to land in Miami.

The Aerovias Q C46 with 19 passengers, four of them Americans, was en route from Havana to the Isle of Pines, about 50 miles south of the Cuban mainland.

None of the passengers was harmed.

THE FOUR AMERICANS aboard were Peter Kissel and his wife, Phyllis, Far Hills, N. J., who said they were on a vacation-fishing trip; Sally Rowley, New York City and Rudy Appel, an exporter from New York City.

Dr. Domingo Acosta, a Havana lawyer and one of the passengers, said the four men got out of their seats and pulled pistols some 10 minutes after the twin - engine plane left the airport at Havana.

"Anyone who moves we will kill him," Acosta quoted the men as saying.

THE ARMED MEN told the passengers to remain quiet in the seats and then two of them walked into the pilot's compartment.

Candelario Delgado 40, the pilot, and co-pilot Falso Valdes, said the men held pistols at their head and jerked off their radio earphones.

The armed men ordered the pilot to fly to the Dominican Republic, but Delgado protested he did not have enough fuel for the trip. The hijackers then ordered the plane flown to Miami.

AS SOON AS THE airliner landed, police swarmed around it and refused to let anyone off. Later the passengers, including 15 Cuban nationals, were impounded in the abandoned customs headquarters of the airport.

A half dozen FBI and immigration agents questioned the pilot and the four hijackers.

The hijackers were identified as Lenadro Serrate, 53, former army corporal from Sims, Cuba, and three brothers, Sgt. Alfredo Mason y Sanchez, 36, Rolando, 27, and Jesus, 25.

Financial Aid Voted Today At Meeting

Action Follows Discussion of Tax Inequities

PALM DESERT — Palm Desert Realty Board members today unanimously endorsed creation of a new Desert County and offered a donation of $100 to help plan secession from Riverside County.

The board agteed with Harry Cannon, legislative attorney for Desert County, Inc., that the desert area is currently suffering from "taxation without representation."

CANNON ADDRESSED board members at their regular weekly meeting at Shadow Mountain Club this morning. The board followed up his talk by contributing $100 for a life membership in Desert County, Inc.

Cannon reported that plans for creation of the new Desert County, ranging from the Whitewater River to the Colorado River, are motivated by "inequities in county government."

He claimed that the desert area has but one representative on the County Board of Supervisors although it pays at least 50 per cent of the county's tax dollars.

CANNON ALSO charged that the desert area is receiving benefits amounting to only about 20 per cent of the tax dollars spent by the county government.

Immediate purpose of Desert County, Inc., Cannon said, is to study facts relating to benefits derived from taxes collected at the eastern end of the county.

He said it will cost about $15,000 in donations to complete a study, submit issues to election and establish the Desert County.

Zoning for Sections 34-35 Gains Approval of Planners

A new zoning plan for two sections of recently annexed city land was greeted with apparent approval by most City Planning Commission members yesterday.

But Commission Chairman John Miller said he felt the plan that would establish new hotel and watercourse zoning for Sections 34 and 35 may be too premature.

"I DON'T THINK we should try to plan too far ahead," Miller remarked, pointing out that he also questioned the zoning recommended for the area by planning director Hy Ranes.

The director's plan, dealing with property on South Palm Canyon Drive just past Cahuilla Hills, substitutes watercourse zoning for land now zoned for guest ranch.

RANES SAID John Bryant, county flood control engineer, reported that all land lying south of the Palm Canyon dike was regarded as flood hazard and should be stamped as watercourse land.

This drew a protest from property owner Edward Furer, who pointed out that he agreed to annexation last year only "with the understanding" that his land beyond the dike would retain its present guest ranch zoning.

Ranes' plan also has R-3 (hotel) zoning fronting both sides of Palm Canyon Drive to the dike. Most of the remainder is R-1, single family, with some R-2.

RANES SAID proposed zoning dovetails with the city's Master Plan, but Miller objected because he thought the commission was planning too far ahead. He also felt that guest ranch or R-1 zoning would be more appropriate for the Palm Canyon frontage.

Commissioner Harold Hicks indicated his approval of the plan by pointing out that "we are trying to eliminate confusion and stabilize property values" by enacting new zoning now."

THE ZONING PLAN also won support from property owners represented at the commission's public hearing by attorney Robert Schlessinger.

Commissioners agreed to close the hearing, but decided to withhold action until they could personally view the property concerned.

Incorporation Meeting Set at Cathedral City

CATHEDRAL CITY — "Now is the time to incorporate so that a well planned and coordinated plan can be inaugurated before our mushroom growth gets out of hand."

More and more people today are reported in favor of the proposed incorporation of Cathedral City, with the above being said by Realtor Cliff Sharpe.

ON MONDAY, TYLER Suess, county planning director, will meet with the incorporation committee of the Chamber of Commerce to outline the proposed boundaries for the incorporation.

Following this meeting, petitions will be drawn and put into circulation.

IN RELEASING the date of the meeting, Paul Clark reported that the committee has received many favorable comments on the incorporation of the desert area's largest unincorporated community, and not one unfavorable comment.

Clark said, however, that although the program is progressing it is going ahead cautiously and each detail is being considered very carefully. Public meetings will be held often to help reach major decisions.

ORVILLE AND HIS ANIMALS ARE 'CELEBRITIES' TODAY

By GEORGE LAINE

A Palm Springs Police Department car pulled Orville Ewing over to the side of the road out on Highway 111 yesterday — a chore that isn't as easy as it sounds.

The patrolman pulled Ewing's wagon, four donkeys, nanny goat, dog, rooster, hen and kid goats over, too.

"I been a-waitin' for you," the nomadic Coloradoan started, before the officer could phrase a question. "Last time I was through here — about 20 years ago — you fellas ran me out of town.

HE RUMMAGED inside his wagon, came up with the current issue of Saturday Evening Post. He flipped it open to Page 38-39 where his picture spreads out and shoved it under the policeman's nose.

"You better treat me right this time," Orville chuckled. "I'm a celebrity now."

After the officer assured Orville that he was simply checking and that his presence in town was not unwelcome, the caravan moved back onto the roadway and headed for town.

"I just got in from Florida," the 71-year-old traveler reported later. "What's today?"

"April 15, income tax day," sighed the reporter.

"I LEFT A YEAR ago, come April 18," said Orville, shoving his wide-brimmed hat back on his head and wiping perspiration from his brow. "It was a good trip."

Orville yearned for the simple life until 1939 when, with his wife dead and his children raised, he took to the road. A weathered hand rubbed down the side of his jaw as he reflected quickly over the two-decade span.

"I ain't ever been happier," he said.

The Post layout pictures Orville in his wagon moving along "Highway 36 in Missouri."

"That's wrong," he pointed out. "I was in Illinois when that picture was taken."

ORVILLE, WHO forsook painting when he developed an allergy for oils, still sketches once in a while and sells the postal cards on which his sketches — and his photographs — are printed to eke out a simple existence for himself and his flock. He has gone from coast to coast, border to border and put in appearances at the San Francisco World's Fair in 1939, the New York World's Fair a year later.

People don't understand him, Orville feels.

"Everybody seems to think I drive aorund like this because I'm soured on the world," he said reflectively. "I'm not soured. I'm just happy this way.

"PEOPLE sometimes stop on the highway and ask me how I can stand to move along at the pace the donkies set.

"I got one answer for 'em."

He chucked one of the long-eared animals under the chin, looked up at Mt. San Jacinto, at a nearby palm, out across the vast expanse of desert and spoke:

"I ask 'em how they can stand to move along at the pace them automobiles set."

Red Fighters Used 'Dangerous Harassing Tactics'

BERLIN (UPI)—Soviet jet fighters used "dangerous harassing tactics" against the turboprop C130 freighter which flew here at 25,000 feet Wednesday in defiance of Russian altitude limitations, American sources said today.

Contradicting earlier reports that two Red planes merely "shadowed" the C130 at a distance of about 600 feet, the sources said they "harassed it in flagrant violation of flight safety regulations."

The United States was expected to protest the safety violation.

Animal Shelter to Benefit From Dinner, Golf Tourney

A day-long Animal Protective League Benefit Golf Tournament next Tuesday together with a cocktail party-dinner that evening preceding it will launch a campaign to raise more than $5,000 for construction of an animal shelter here.

Directors of the League said today that the twin events may provide all of the additional funds needed to begin construction of the $20,000 shelter.

AT THE SAME time, the directors issued three statements in an effort designed to eliminate "some amount of misunderstanding" regarding League plans. The directors said:

—The overall administration and policies of the scheduled shelter is to remain in the hands of Animal Protective League directors. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will assist the League in obtaining competent personnel to staff the shelter.

—ANY ANIMAL brought to the shelter from any location will be accepted. Although the initial operation will cover Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs, Thousand Palms, Palm Desert, Rancho Mirage, Cathedral City and all other unincorporated area from an 18-mile radius of the shelter, no animal will ever be refused by the shelter, directors said emphatically.

—The shelter will function as more than a home for indigent animals. The directors said that the shelter would undertake a full program of return of lost animals, veterinary care for sick animals, rescue operations for lost or stranded animals and will also seek to return wild animals to natural environment.

The directors indicated that some "misconceptions" about these phases of shelter operation had arisen in recent weeks and said they were detailing an exl planation to "halt confusion."

THE DINNER and golf toureny is a jointly sponsored effort which is being handled by the League in conjunction with six area clubs. Eldorado, Thunderbird, Tamarisk, O'Donnell, Indian Wells and Bermuda Dunes are aligning their programs to fit in with the benefit tournament, a one-day invitational Scotch mixed foursome event competing for an auction sweepstakes. An anticipated 120 players are expected to take to the Bermuda Dunes links Tuesday when the play gets under way.

The pre-tournament dinner will feature a special guest appearance by the Murray Arnold Trio. Cost of the dinner and show is $15 and reservations may be made by calling Bermuda Dunes or by phoning Tony Burke at FA 8-2590.

THE BUILDING fund of the Animal Protective League has a balance of slightly in excess of $14,500, officials of the League said today. The Camino Parocela property — donated for the shelter by pioneer Villager John Williams — has been surveyed by SPCA officials and pronounced ideal. It is centrally located, the SPCA visitors said, to best serve the vast desert area.

The shelter is to be constructed so as to maintain seperate facilities for adult dogs, puppies, cats and miscellaneous animals.

Speed King Campbell Here On Business, Pleasure Trip

By AL LE ANCE

British speed merchant Donald Campbell who's still the fastest man afloat, figures he's betting one million pounds that he can crack the "sound barrier" of motordom's magic mile.

Campbell, holder of the world's water speed record, is currently gunning for the world's land speed record in his turbine-powered Bluebird, a $2,800,000, four-wheeled runabout potentially capable of traveling at 500 miles an hour.

WHICH IS a bit faster than the four-engined passenger plane that brought Campbell to Palm Springs from Los Angeles yesterday afternoon.

Campbell arrived here as the guest of oilman Ray Ryan, who headed a greeting party that included Mrs. Ryan, singer Patti Page, Mayor Frank Bogert and Police Chief August Kettmann.

Ryan made it an appropriate Village welcome by handing the visiting Britisher a sack of golf clubs and a cap signifying membership in Ryan's Bermuda Dunes Golf Club.

"HE'S ALSO the first honorary member of our Mt. Kenya (Africa) Safari Club," Ryan quipped as Campbell plunged into a hurried press conference in the Palm Springs Airport coffee shop.

"Actually, I came here to talk to Ray about my catamarands," Campbell explained as he sipped a frosty American root beer.

Campbell, who heads the famed firm of Norris Brothers, Ltd., also manufacturers speedy, twin-hulled plastic boats measuring 11 feet in length and designed for outboard motoring pleasure.

RYAN IS ALSO the producer of the Larson Fiberglass boats in this country and is thinking about the production here of Campbell's family-sized catamarands.

"My boats go fast, but they're not as fast as Campbell's" Ryan remarked.

But Ryan was referring to Campbell's magnificent Bluebird, the jet-powered craft that brought him the world's water speed record in a 216-mile-an-hour run at Nevada's Lake Mead on Nov. 16, 1955.

CAMPBELL'S FIRST speed attempt in the jet boat almost ended tragically the preceding month when the Bluebird sank in 100 feet of cold Lake Mead water.

"It was a heartbreaking episode when that boat sank," Campbell recalled in tones flecked with a soft British accent. "It was a nasty moment — all my dreams seemed to sink with her."

But the boat was hoisted

Employment Specialist Hired At Indio Office

INDIO — Job discrimination against older workers has become so prevalent that the Indio office of the California Department of Employment has retained a specialist to handle such cases.

William B. Gray yesterday was announced as older-worker placement specialist by the Indio office which also noted that job discrimination is on the gain.

"By 1975," State Employment Director John E. Carr declared, "half of the population of voting age will be over 45."

Carr said that appointment of such persons as Gray would seek to encourage the use of older workers. Gray, in accepting the post, said that older workers are known to bring maturity, stability and reliability to any job they tackle.

Playhouse Season Said Success, Planning Started for Next Year

By GEORGE LAINE

For the first time in its 11-year history, the Palm Springs Playhouse may not register a deficit when the books are closed on this season's operation late this week.

For Mike and Marrian Ferrall, the husband-wife team who not only produce and direct the 14-play schedule at the Playhouse but also act and even promote their own productions, the news came as a welcome relief.

It also gave the couple a chance to air some optimism about the future of their theater-in-the-round here.

THE ONLY PROFESSIONAL stock company left in the Southland, the Playhouse is slowly but surely gaining stature in drama circles and, more important to its continued life, with the public.

"We're starting to gain a reputation," said Marrian, biting down on a tuna salad sandwich fashioned by her versatile husband. "It's taken time, but we can see some of the results now."

Mike nodded.

"It isn't as difficult to get the kind of actors that stock companies must have if they're to be taken seriously," he said, doling a heaping spoonful of sugar into a glass of iced tea. "The plays we used to have trouble getting are not so difficult to obtain now."

THE COUPLE STILL have their problems, however, and like so many other legitimate facets of entertainment the bulk of those problems are wrapped up in television.

"It's difficult to compete with TV," said Mike, a note of deep seriousness in his voice. "In the first place we can't pay salaries like, say, Playhouse 90. Second, we have to have the services of the actors for two weeks — one week in rehearsal, the other in production."

"You can't expect," Marrian injected, taking the couple's 7-month old daughter on her lap, "actors to walk away from any television work that might spell the difference between stardom and routine actorship."

THE IMPACT OF TV has almost overshadowed what should be the major "trouble spot" for the couple — the acquisition of acceptable scripts for Playhouse production.

"We feel," Mike said, "that in a town such as Palm Springs, the major demand is going to be for comedy." He stopped, waited for Marrian to nod, then continued.

"We like to do drama — the best thing we did this year, in my opinion, was 'Deep Are the Roots' — but we have to recognize the fact that much of our potential audience is going to stay away."

FERRALL'S "favorite was a solid failure at the box office here and only a special benefit performance saved "Diary of Anne Frank" from a similar disastrous run. Both were, he feels, good works.

"Further," he added, "I feel it is a theater's responsibility to present some dramatic efforts.

"But," Marrian interjected again, "you have to be realistic."

"We consider," Mike resumed, "plays such as 'Roots' and 'Diary' to be luxuries. We can't afford many of them."

THAT DOESN'T MEAN the Ferralls don't care for comedy. They do. Thoroughly.

Omitting "Private Lives" — which may well be the best comedy of the season, currently in progress at the Playhouse — the couple designated "Kind Sir" and "Tunnel of Love" as two fun-packed shows that aroused their delight as well as that of six full house audiences.

"Those are the ones we ought to like best," Mike said, placing the sandwich on the plate and spreading his hands expressively. "They made money at the box office."

"Sometimes," they chorused, "the comedies can be as satisfying as the dramas."

SOME MEASURE of the stature the Palm Springs Playhouse is acquiring may be seen in the springboard progress made by some of the performers who have appeared this season.

"Richard Tretter went directly from his appearance in 'George Apley' to the star role in a new TV series called 'Tumbleweed Jones' and John Newton also has a pilot out on a new TV series.

"Charles Winninger, who has been in semi-retirement for nearly ten years, was so excited about the reaction to 'Lightnin'' here that he's taking it to Seattle for a four-week run and is asking Claud Johnson along with him.

"Marketa Kimbrell, who was so convincing in 'Diary,' is on Playhouse 90 this Thursday and is going into the Hinsdale Summer Theater in Illinois."

THERE ARE MANY others who have made an appearance here a stepping stone to other achievements and the Ferralls are proud of that record. But they're also more interested in the future than the past.

High on the agenda of things they intend to spur next season are these:

—Intensified searching for local thespians with time-tabling of both Mike's and Marrian's hours to include some moments to hear such talent in audition.

—Revitalization of the hotel-club promotion campaign which, the pair feel, has not realized its full potential. Potential audiences simply are not made fully aware of the fact that a professional theater group operated in Palm Springs and the couple means to correct that attitude.

"IT GOES WITHOUT saying," Mike added, "that we'll continue to seek out the best available plays, the finest available actors."

Because of TV, the remoteness of Palm Springs from the Los Angeles hub of the industry and other side factors, the couple sometimes have to settle for less than they'd like.

"There were a couple of plays we'd recast if we had it to do over," Mike said.

This recognition of their own fallibility appears to be one of the stoutest guarantees of the continued progress and growth of the Playhouse.

WITH PRESENT growth continuing, the Ferralls feel that it isn't going to be too long before the Palm Springs Playhouse becomes recognized as one of the prime theaters in the West.

"We'll always aim higher," said Marrian. "We want to get better. We will, in time."

Mike's head bobbed in assent. He slid the napkin off his lap, wadded it up and placed it on the table.

"It's two o'clock, Mike," Marrian advised her husband.

"Yep,' he sighed, heading for the door and the Playhouse.

At Las Vegas

Zaddie to Attend Flight Congress

Zaddie Bunker, Palm Springs Flying Great-Grandmother, will leave Friday for Las Vegas to attend the World Congress of Flight.

Mrs. Bunker will be accompanied to Las Vegas by her great-grandson, Gary Lee Miller, and the National Broadcasting Co. will film an hour's television show in which she will fly her plane and represent the thousands of small plane owners throughout the world.

A busy schedule is facing the 72 - year - old flying great grandmother, for on April 24 she will be in San Fernando to appear at the "99" Southwest Convention and appear on the Lee Giroux Show.

She wants to hear some of the lectures at the World Congress of Flight, and is especially interested in watching Jeri Cobb of Oklahoma attempt to take away the distance record from the Russians. Miss Cobb will fly a twin-engine Aerial Commander which checks out in the 38,000-66,000 pound class.

In May Mrs. Bunker will reign over the Armed Forces Day program at George Air Force Base, and will become the first 72-year-old woman to fly faster than sound.

The first automobile to exceed the speed of a mile-a-minute was driven on November 16, 1901, on a straightaway course at Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn, New York.

More autos are purchased in Los Angeles than any other city in the world.

HONORED GUEST SPEAKER Mrs. Melba Bennett receives a corsage from Nancy Sutton, president of the Palm Springs High School Girls Athletic Association, while Dr. Charles Webster, principal of the school looks on. Mrs. Bennett discussed "New Frontiers for Women" in the assembly portion of the annual meeting of the Southern California Girls Athletic Federation held Saturday at the high school. Some 700 high school coeds—from Santa Barbara to Needles—attended the meeting which featured workshops on such subjects as synchronized swimming, golf, tennis, archery and other activities. RUSSIA'S POETS, WRITERS SIGNIFICANCE IS TOPIC

Russia's poets and writers may have a greater impact on our relations with that nation than even America's best-versed diplomats realize, according to John Robert Clarke, globe - trotting lecturer whose "Adventures in Living" series will tackle the subject at 8 p. m., Thursday, in the Desert Inn here.

Clarke spent five days in close consultation with Ivan Babkin, head of the Soviet Intourist Bureau, last summer. He will rely on that information together with recently-released poetry by new Russ authors in describing "The Russian Temperament in Literature." Clarke will also survey Russian literature from Dostoevski to Boris Pasternak.

"PERHAPS AS dangerous to us as Russia herself," said Clarke, who will be delivering the eighth of a series of 10 lectures Thursday, "is our glib habit of appraising Russia and her long-range moves without first having acquainted ourselves with the tensions of her own history.

"It may well be that neither East nor West will be able — for several decades — to bring the proper background knowledge and emotional preparation to a counsel table."

CLARKE SAID that the 150 years of "internal explosions, dramatic reversals and peculiar thrusts toward 'ideal' goals" have made Russia significant material for all peoples.

Following the Clarke lecture, the rearrangement of chairs which provides for a circular discussion group will again be performed. Clarke explains that he launched the discussion phase of his programs after being frustrated by speakers who "after a concluding sentence of warmth and faith, froze into forbidding little men and went home." Clarke maintains that the opportunity to ask questions, to explain individual points of view, to gain further explanations, should not be denied to lecture audiences.

THE SERIES, now growing in size and response here, is parallel to similar series also conducted by Clarke at San Diego's Balboa Park and in Beverly Hills Hotel.

Tickets for the lecture are available either at Desert Book Shop or at the door of the Desert Inn.

Coloring Book Contest Entries Available Here

Top prize in the coloring contest will be an expense paid trip to Hawaii, plus a chance to win $500 in cash; second prize is a Super Deluxe Bicycle — boys' or girls' — complete with lights, horns and safety brakes; and third regional prizes will be a total of 2,000 stuffed leopards, valued at $43.95 each.

No purchase is necessary.

Parents need only to drop into the Palm Springs Paint Co., pick up the coloring book, application, and a free envelope to mail it to Trimz Contest, Box 8015, Chicago, 77, Ill.

Final Museum Lecture Set

Villager W. Scott Lewis will discuss "The Land of the Gnomes' and show unusual kodachrome slides at 8 p.m., Saturday, in the Desert Museum.

Dr. Lewis will end the 1959 program of the Museum with his illustrated lecture.

Road Width Reduction Wins Board Approval

A request by the Idyllwild Mountain Park Company that the 50-foot width road requirement for Busy Way in its No. 9 subdivision in the mountain resort's Fern Valley area be reduced to 40 feet, was approved by the Board of Supervisors this week.

The planning commission had refused to approve the company's tentative map without the 50-foot street width.

The vote on Supervisor Fred McCall's motion to grant the request was three to two. Voting with McCall were Supervisor William Jones and Supervisor George Berkey.

Latest figures show that California leads all other states in new passenger car registration.

The first concrete rural road was laid in Wayne County, Michigan in the spring of 1909.

Dear Abby... ...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: For years (14 to be exact) I've been covering up for my husband for the sake of my children, and now I am beginning to wonder if I've been doing the right thing. He's always had other women (one at a time) and when he'd stay out all night I'd say, "Dad has gone on a business trip." Everyone thinks he is an honorable family man and he certainly doesn't deserve the good reputation he enjoys. I spoke to my minister about this three years ago and he said given time he'd straighten out. But nothing has changed. Should I continue to cover up for him or force a showdown. TIRED OF COVERING

DEAR TIRED: "Covering up" for a cheating husband is like buying a tweed coat to cure dandruff. Unless you insist on a better marriage and a full-time husband, he'll assume you don't miss it and he'll make no effort to change. Don't expose him to the children, but do see a marriage counselor.

DEAR ABBY: After going together for six years my boyfriend and I planned to be married at a simple ceremony at the City Hall during my lunch hour on Friday. I missed my bus and got there about 40 minutes late. He and his buddy were later than I was and when he showed up I noticed his eyes were blurry and he smelled like a brewery. I said, "I am not marrying any man in that condition!" And I didn't stay to get married either. Marriage to me is something sacred even if I can't afford a fancy Church wedding. I think the least he could have done was stayed sober. Was I wrong? NOT MARRIED

DEAR NOT: Not by a long shot!

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you had a brother 14 years old and you were eleven and he kept kicking you in bed and you told your mother and she got up and said, "You quit kicking him!" and as soon as she went back to bed he started kicking you again and then you couldn't stand it any longer so you got your father out of bed and he came in and gave both of you a good licking right through all the covers and everything? MAD

DEAR MAD: I'd remember this experience if I were you. It's not the fairest way to settle differences between two quarreling children, but it's by far the most effective.

DEAR ABBY: I am a married lady. I was invited by a married couple to go to a show. How should we have been sitting in the show. Should the wife have sat between me and her husband or should the husband have sat between me and his wife? GUEST

DEAR GUEST: The husband should have sat between you and his wife. A "guest" should never come between a woman and her husband.

Is it safe to go steady? Get ABBY'S booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants To Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self - addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of this newspaper.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self - addressed stamped envelope.

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes to be wrong.

Wisdom of Establishing Desert Park Becoming More Apparent

It is fast becoming evident that within a few years every acre on the floor of the Coachella Valley will be in the process of being transformed from desert into improved plots for agricultural, residential or commercial purposes.

The once large area of dunes and undulating terrain covered by creosote, ironwood, smoke trees, palo verde and other varieties of natural desert foliage is being consumed by thousands of acres annually to satisfy the development needs of an ever increasing population.

So great is the demand for raw land of all types and so successful are modern large scale leveling and improvement operations that even the sections of heavy brush and rolling dunes are rising rapidly in value due to their readily recognizable potential in the full sweep of the development tide.

All of which is extremely pleasing and encouraging to property owners and residents of the desert region with the exception of those who while accepting the fact that progress is not to be denied, admit to nostalgic promptings to spare at least some of the vistas of virginial desert dunes and surrounding landscape in its primeval state and beauty for past memories and future generations.

Thus has been born an as yet unorganized movement to create a Desert Park to preserve at least a part of the most scenic and typically unspoiled sector of the desert floor in its natural form and distinctive charm for the enjoyment of desert dwellers and visitors in the years just ahead and the centuries to follow.

This has already been accomplished in the "high" desert with the creation of Joshua Tree National Park, in the Sierra Region with its National Forest near Idyllwild, in the Salton Sea section with a State Park, in the hilly region above Palm Desert with a State wildlife and game refuge and in Palm Canyon with its control and preservation under the Indian Tribal Council.

While there is still time to reserve an adequate and well located area of undisturbed desert suitable for preservation as a park for posterity, it is well to give serious thought to taking the necessary steps for its accomplishment.

Whether through National, State or County channels by and with the help of individuals and organizations, it is advisable that a plan be developed and active support engendered to secure and perpetuate such an area for public recreation and other purposes.

Forsight now as to future needs and value, and a willingness and determination to establish a Desert Park in the not too distant future, can mean a great deal to the entire desert empire in the forward march of progress and happiness for all.

The Long View on Berlin

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Depending on which door you choose to knock there are two distinct viewpoints concerning the Russo-American deadlock on Berlin. One view is short; the other long.

The short view is that by May 27th, or by the end of a foreign ministers' conference this summer, or as the result of a heads of state meeting in the fall, we must reach a solution — on pain of war. But the long view, which was given this reporter by a State Department confidante, is much different and more promising.

BEHIND THIS patricular State Department door, the analogy for what could happen in Germany is what did happen in 1955 to Austria. In Austria, where the same East-West forces of the U.S., Britain, France and Russia were holding a joint occupation, the Soviets acted almost as unreasonably and unyieldingly as they do today in Germany.

It was freely predicted in places where Russian tactics were "understood" that the Russians would "never" pull out of Austria. But pull out they did, on terms that were acceptable to all concerned, and by means of a multilateral treaty which has not been violated.

DURING THE Hungarian uprising of 1956 this reporter saw hundreds of refugees pour to freedom and safety in Austria where the strictest neutrality was observed by all the visiting nationals. It may be asked—how can such things be in the international cockpit called West Europe?

One answer is that the Russians on their side and we on ours saw mutual benefits in keeping Austria neutral and demilitarized. A comparable circumstance exists in Poland where the Russians permit a carefully measured amount of self-rule, and where the United States sends a carefully measured amount of foreign aid.

NEITHER Austrian neutrality nor Polish "freedoms" is absolute, and it's a matter of opinion whether our aid is helping the Polish nation or the Communist International Conspiracy. Still, Austria is one place, and Poland is another place, where we have been able to "do business" with the Russians in West Europe. Hence, in the long view, it may not be impossible to find an accommodation over Berlin. Common interest could be the key.

Still another long view answer to the Berlin problem, I am told, may be found in the natural laws under which youth is the token of human everlastingness and old age is the token of change. Somehow, some time, the hardy German race is going to close its riven ranks.

IF THE USA remains on the side of eventual German reunion, the USA will be on the winning side of Nature. And if the USSR retains the Khrushchev policy of a divided Germany and an isolated Berlin, the USSR will be on the losing and unnatural side.

German nationalism is as inevitable as the other 20th Century nationalisms, from Ireland to India, which succeeded despite the overwhelming force of a hostile empire. And Communist internationalism, which is the Russian equivalent of empire, is not going to succeed unless the forces of freedom commit total capitulation.

IT NEEDS to be not'd that this theory of natural adjustment comes from a gorgeous city on the Potomac at a most beautiful time of year. We are witnessing the vernal pilgrimages of seemingly changeless groups of school children, proving the immortality of the human race. This testimony, of course, does not stand alone. On the greensward between Union Station and Capitol Hill the Robert A. Taft Memorial Bell Tower is to be dedicated on April 14th, with another famous old American, former President Herbert Hoover, giving the eulogy.

The aging and passing of the elder statesmen — Secretary Dulles and General Marshall are stricken; Adenauer is retiring — is part of the natural process. At this time of year in Washington, nobody can well believe in things like deadlock, disunity and failure. —Holmes Alexander

Letters to the Editor

Editor
Desert Sun

I should like to answer Mr. Laine's criticism of the Connor-Conley concert with a question—just what are those of us to do who cannot afford the long and expensive trip into Los Angeles to heard grand opera? Are we to never have the opportunity to hear great music live?

I fully agree that opera needs orchestral accompaniment for the fullest enjoyment and I made that statement to my companion.

However, I thoroughly enjoyed the program and have talked to others who said they did and one of these persons has always said he did NOT like grand opera or anything bordering on such "heavy" music.

Perhaps Mr. Laine should spearhead a movement for a local symphony orchestra — many smaller cities have one. The area high schools could, no doubt, furnish enough really talented young people for a creditable orchestra. Anyway, it is a thought and I, for one, will be glad to help.

MARY JANE KENYON

Editor
The Desert Sun:

I want to express to you my own great appreciation and that of the Palm Springs Garden Club for your extensive and thorough coverage of our Flower Show. You were mst generous in all the publicity prior to the show. No newspaper could have done better than yours in the telling of the events of last Saturday.

I wish to thank you for your personal interest and also through you to commend most highly that devoted friend of the community, Hildy Crawford. She showed the keenest interest in the many entries and gave a skillful and interesting account of the show. It is no accident everyone speaks so highly of her. I also wish to express my thanks for the meticulous way in which Mr. Nims operated in the taking of the pictures.

Altogether we are delighted and grateful for the splendid coverage given us by you and the members of your staff.

DR. WALTER W. FIFIELD

Quotes from the News

BERLIN — An American spokesman on Soviet harassment of U.S. planes in the Berlin air corridor:

"We will continue to fly as high as we please when we please."

WASHINGTON — William Bufalino, head of Detroit juke box local of the Teamsters Union, denying that he had anything to do with a bombing and refusing to take a lie detector test:

"I don't need any machine to tell me what the truth is."

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

So now get with it
Put the blues on the run,
Tomorrow's the day
You're supposed to have fun.

Probably you didn't know it, but tomorrow, April 17, is National Fun Day. I didn't either until I read it in the book.

BUT SEEMS TO ME that whoever first had the bright idea of designating April 17 as National Fun Day had a poor sense of timing.

Two days after Income Tax deadline and when a lot of people are worrying whether they made some noticeable mistakes in their return. It's no time to smile.

WHICH RECALLS to mind what a cheerful geezer said just the other day.

Everybody should be glad to live in this country and be privileged and able to pay taxes.

"Everybody should pay their taxes with a smile."

Most people would be glad to pay their taxes with a smile but it seems the Internal Revenue Bureau insists on cash.

TUESDAY I sounded my annual appeal to people who had picked up pets during their stay here not to abandon them to fend for themselves when they left for their summer homes.

That evening Tony Burke called me to say that if people did not know what to do with the pets when they leave, they should call Mrs. Bruce Boyd, FA 4-2328 and she will be able to give them the proper information.

Incidentally, next Tuesday Bermuda Dunes is staging a benefit golf tournament for the Animal Shelter with a party the night before at the clubhouse.

Every cent of the proceeds goes to the Animal Shelter.

It's something well worth supporting.

I JUST KNEW that it was bound to happen.

Our bright idea boys have thought up so many ideas to save time and trouble like instant coffee, TV dinners and along that line. So this just had to follow.

The other day I read about a new powder. You pour it into a bit of water, stir it and—

Instant martinis.

Or a different kind of powder—instant highballs.

Perhaps they'll even include instant aspirin to forestall that instant hangover.

THIS IS National Library Week and on all sides you hear pleas for more and better reading material.

Lists of noted books and so on and what all the well-read man should have assimilated by now are all around us.

Funny but some of the most publicized books were not on any list—books like Peyton Place and such.

And no where in any list did I find the names of the books I have been reading for so many months, the Perry Masons and other Who-Dun-Its.

But you can't say I do not read thoroughly every day — box scores, race results, golf summaries, and things like that.

Perhaps not educational but certainly informative.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

This morning is sunny and clear as a bell from where I sit. Up in the blue sky, over the green hills, the jets go whistling out to sea.

We are guarded by Nike missile bases and young men in crash helmets with built-in radio.

Nevertheless, I am being slowly dusted to my reward.

THAT IS THE gloomy word in the cheerful morning journal. My paper is delivered by an earnest boy on a bicycle. He works on a little merchant plan — that is, he buys the papers wholesale and sells them to us retail.

He is slightly dusty from the morning ride. But it will wash off.

What I am being dusted with is strontium 90.

This goop is mighty bad for you.

ALL THIS IS agreed by the members of science. What they do not agree on is whether you are getting ENOUGH to make it bad for you.

"The allowable amount of strontium 90 has already been passed in one sample taken in the Midwest." That is an opinion from one scientist.

The AEC — those are the people who shoot off the bombs that make Old 90 — the AEC just says the amount dusting onto us is allowable.

I don't think any of it is allowable.

Mama, don't 'low no strontium 90 round here.

I WONDER what has become of the 27 dusty horses of Las Vegas, Nevada?

These horses wandered around the atomic range and were dusted with atomic dust.

Well, they thought nothing of it. Until one day, one of the lady horses told the gentleman horse: "Dusty, I don't want to say anything about it. But I think you are losing your hair."

"NONSENSE," said Dusty. Nevertheless, he took a peak in the mirror. His hair did look a little thin. That night he bought some hair tonic and began brushing his hair — 100 strokes.

This did not do a bit of good. He changed to olive oil and he had the barber give him a massage. His hair kept falling out.

It fell out on all 27 horses. They were terribly sensitive about it. But the only hope left was a Max Factor hairpiece.

THE CASE of the dusty horses has always interested me. Because I was one of the first humans dusted by an atom bomb.

When such bombs were a novelty, I went out on the desert near Las Vegas and the AEC shot one off for us. They cost about a million dollars. But nothing is too good for the press.

They shot this thing off. WHOOOOOOSH! The whole sky turned red and 300 correspondents turned to their typewriters and wrote the established cliche: "Like a thousand suns . . ."

I SUPPOSE it was. I did not see it, however. I took a look at that flat desert — there wasn't a hill to hide behind. The bomb was supposed to be ten miles away. But did they measure it?

I took a look at that. Then I took a look for the scientists who were going to push the button.

They were not there. They were A MILE IN BACK OF US! Dug into a concrete and lead blockhouse.

"FOR HEAVEN'S sake," I remember thinking, "they have lured us out here for the supreme test."

At that point I got behind four of the biggest reporters I could find. Then I got under the press table. When the bomb went off—like a thousand suns—I was keeping the dust off.

Nothing happened to my hair.

That had already happened some years ago. I beat them there.

NEW YORK — Howard J. Knox, after his fiancee, former GI Christine Jorgenson, was turned down for a marriage license because of inadequate proof of her femininity:

"We hope we can iron out our difficulties and see this thing through."

NEW YORK — "Once upon a time there was a movie star who didn't want to get his own TV show . . ."

I'm kidding, of course; this is just a fairy story. There never really was one.

Even Greta Garbo, I'll bet, though she won't make movies any more, must envy Jack Paar's enormous audiences. Danny Kaye, unavailable as he has been to TV, must be plotting a blockbuster for five years from now when everybody else is dead tired.

One of the shyest of men, Van Johnson, confessed to me recently that he would like to retire from acting — though still a very young man — after he does may be half a dozen more pictures "and a TV series."

George Jessel — not one of the shyest of men — is staging a big comeback in Hollywood with a local TV show.

Jack E. Leonard, Barbara Nicholds, Gypsy Rose Lee, and Clyde Beatty — they've all got a TV show or are planning ine. I take it back. There was one fellow NOT anxious to have a TV series.

Who was it? Eddie Fisher. He just had one.

Van Johnson felt that if he wrapped up a few more movies and some TV, he would retire to read, write and paint, in the Beverly Hills home which his wife Evie says has a distinctive decor. She calls it "Early Cluttered."

Diana Dors has dented it, and in view of her love story with English comedian Dicky Dawson, maybe I should forget it. But one of her British discoverers told me a couple of years ago that when she was a very young gal in England, she posed for a nude picture, several thousand copies of which were sent around to American GI's then stationed in Europe. Allegedly she inscribed the pictures, "This is my contribution to the war effort."

Ingrid Bergman and Lars Schmidt made Blue Angel comedian Shelley Berman very happy —catching his act and saying, "You were very funny." (He said, "Geee, she's beautiful!" Ingrid lunched at Le Valois with Sir Laurence Olivier, and their mutual agent, Kay Brown. "No, I have no picture with Ollvier — I wish I did!" Ingrid told me later.

Funny, but since Dolores Gray and Director-Choreographer Michael Kidd slapped each other in Boston, their show, "Destry Rides Again," is much smoother.

Bill Holden was telling John Wayne and me he's henpecked.

"I flew to Miami from N.Y. with Pete Kriendler and Ben Wright and immediately phoned my wife in California," Bill said. "She said, 'What are you doing in Maimi' I said, 'I came down here for a few days' fishing.' The phone went 'Click!' I phoned her back and said, 'I guess you didn't hear me say the fishing was lousy and I'll be home on the next plane, did you?'"

Louis Prima and Keely Smith, who do the Ed Sullivan TV show May 10 and May 17, say the reason they're often apart (leading to rumors) is that he's in no hurry and rides trains, she's in a hurry and flies. "Keely'll even take a coast-to-coast jet to go four hours faster," says Louis, leisurely.

The Frank Sinatra-Sammy Davis tiff cost Sammy about $150,000 worth of picture work . . . Richard Brown was in tears over the suicide of beautiful blonde model Venita Radcliffe . . . Jack Herbert says Minnesota's principal export is Harold Stassen.

Toots Shor and Nicky Blair (of the Blair House) are buddies — Nicky's also friendly with Sherman Billingsley, Toot's bitter enemy. When Nicky's son got engaged, Nicky took the party to Billingsley's Stork Club. Just before calling for the check, Nicky began viciously blasting Shor to Billingsley — after which the waiter said, "No check — compliments of Mr. Billingsley." Blair reported it to Shor, explaining, "Rapping you saved me $250."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH:

Walter Slezak read a baseball scout's report on a rookie: "He hats, throws and shaves right-handed."

WITH I'D SAID THAT:

Rossano Brazzano says it in "Count Your Blessings": "Always smile at women. If they are pretty it gives you pleasure. If they aren't, it gives them pleasure."

George de Witt claims he's envious when he gets a business letter that's poorly typed: "That means the guy's secretary must be beautiful." That's earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY: Faint Scent of Money

HOLLYWOOD — Marilyn Monroe breezed past my booth at Romanoff's, leaving behind a faint scent of money. Marilyn's the same "dumb blonde" everybody in Hollywood laughed at four short years ago because she walked out on her $1,500-a-week salary at Fox and promoted a $75,000 loan through her agent to support herself during her sit-down strike. Then she formed her own independent production unit with photographer Milton Greene, and the "insiders" laughed louder — how could she possibly hope to compete with a major studio like Fox?

But now look at her: she stands to make over $1,000,000 through her percentage deal on "Some Like It Hot," one of the year's "hottest tickets!" Dumb for not staying at Fox? Like a Fox.

HAS HER first hard-won Oscar, after five tries, changed Susan Hayward? No, she was changed before she won it. Her marriage to Eaton Chalkley, that solid, strictly non-show business type ex-FBI businessman who runs a national investigating agency that serves large industries and also owns Cadillac, Olds and Chevy agencies throughout the South, did it for the gal I've known and admired for so many years.

No more of that frantic "What's my next part going to be and will it top my last one?" business for Susan. Her main interest now is her home in Carrollton, Ga., about 30 miles from Atlanta. It has a private lake, stocked with trout — and a stable of fine horses. She and Eaton both like to ride. It also has her twins, Greg and Tim — at least part of each year. She shares their custody with their father, Jess Barker.

BEFORE SHE flew back to Georgia, after winning the best-actress Oscar for "I Want to Live!", I asked her if the twins wanted her to win (they were with her the night three years ago when she lost it to Anna Magnani). Said Susan: "Certainly, but for a strange reason. Greg's last words before I flew out here were, 'I hope you win it because I've never seen one of those things up close!'"

Bob Mitchum is shuddering because he has to location with MGM's "Home from the Hill" for three whole weeks in Oxford, Miss., a DRY state! Hey, Bob, maybe that nonconforming Oxonian who also likes his schnapps, Nobel-winner William Faulkner, will crack out a bottle or three for you!

THEY'RE Metromancing Deborah Kerr for the title role in Sylvia Ashton-Warner's novel, "Spinster." But Deborah's not too sure she'll do a repeat on the spinster role in "Separate Tables" so the McMoguls are looking for a new title. Like "The Spinnin' Spinster"?

MGM's biopic based on the late, great Bab Didrikson Zaharias is now being scripted with Shirley MacLaine in mind as the Beltin' Babe.

Debbie Reynolds is learning to smoke for her "Rat Race" role—and how will she explain that to the redblooded young Americans she entertains at the Los Angeles Boy Scout Jamboree next month? Scoutmaster Glen Ford, incidentally, signed Debbie to sing for the lads.

Bob Hope says that campus craze of cramming phone booths with collegians is getting out of hand. He dropped a dime in a pay-phone booth, got a busy signal, hung up — and 26 undergrads fell out.

CHANNEL CHATTER — The late Lou Costello's lovely daughter Carol make her singing debut with Steve Allen Sunday (April 19).

Mort Sahl's divorce is final — so now look for a bridal suite, one room bright and neat, complete, as the song goes, for Mort and Phyllis Kirk of the Thin Man series . . . Pete Lawford, same series, is too busy beltin' 'em out every week so he bowed out of Frank Sinatra's next picture, "Never So Few." British actor Richard Johnson replaces him in this, "the shakeup picture of the year!"

First TV's Steve McQueen replaced Sammy Davis Jr., then came the Johnson-Lawford shuffle, and now Italy's Gina Lollobrigida takes over for Israel's Haya Hararoot as leading lady (official studio reason: "She fits the part better").

MY LAST words on this year's Academy Award telecast and the 20 minutes they chopped off the finals are also Oscarcast producer Jerry Wald's. Says Jerry: "What's so awful about it? If it had been a championship bout and if one of the contenders had been knocked out in the first round, would the viewers have squawled because they lost the additional 14 rounds?"

Dignified Ray Milland, preparing for his private-eye practice in his new TV series, Markham, joined a judo class. There'll be no stuntmen doubling for Ray in this one.

STORIES OF THE WEEK

AN EMERGENCY
By Cyli Teitelbaum, 12 years,
608 Indian Trail, Palm Springs

Rough, dark clouds pushed their way across the sky. The wind whistled and the snow and sleet came down and covered every inch of the way.

A dim light burned in an ailing boy's bedroom. One could hear him cry out in pain over the terrific aches in his side. His father was lost as to what to do. Knowing the road was washed out, and the telephone was out of order, he was unable to reach his nearest neighbor.

Since it was a matter of life and death, he decided to operate with the little knowledge he had gained from attending medical school. He used his kitchen tools and, fortunately, because the boy was in a coma, he was able to operate. When he finished and laid him back on his bed, he went into the kitchen to make a cup of coffee, and he prayed that morning would find his son well.

At the break of dawn he heard a faint cry, and he knew his prayers had been answered.

(Cyli's story certainly held T. T. in suspense all the way through. He, too, sighed a sigh of relief with the boy's dad.)

Surprise Party on Birthday

Bill Seemann was relaxing poolside at his home on Plaza Amigo Saturday enjoying the quiet of the evening when a group of friends burst in singing "Happy Birthday." His wife Carolyn had laid plans for this surprise party earlier in the week.

A buffet supper was served poolside along with a sparkler-lit birthday cake, while recorded music played in the background.

Among the guests wishing Bill "Happy Birthday" were Bill and Marge Ellis, Mousie and Russell Hayden of Los Angeles (he is producer of TV's "Twenty-Six Men"), Gordon and Tommy Brown, Wendy Griffith, Inez Collins of Hollywood, Paul and Fran Karol, Marie Cooper and Rene Stevenson of Los Angeles.

Around The World Carnival at Cahuilla School Tomorrow Night

Cahuilla Parent - Teacher Association calls the carnival being held at the school tomorrow from 5 to 9 p.m. 'Round The World Carnival,' and co-chairmen, Mrs. W. A. Barton, Mrs. Paul Pospesil and Mrs. Cy Hodgen, announce that there are to be ten food and drink booths representing ten countries, and eleven game booths with something to interest all ages, from the pre-schooler West Indies Burlid Treasure Dig through the American Ham and Bacon skill game.

Food is being donated by Cahuilla P-TA parents and will be sold at a minimum. Although the annual Carnival is a fund-raising project, the emphasis is on fun for the students.

Mrs. William P. Aikin, recently re-elected president of Cahuilla P-TA, the first such organization in the Village, has suggested that the money raised at the school carnivals could be the means of instituting a child welfare program, financed and manned by P-TA parents.

Closets will be easier to clean if you plan storage space so that nothing sits on the floors. Use pull-out trays or shelves for underwear, sweaters and other clothing that should lie flat.

If you misplace a milk-bottle cap, place an egg in the mouth of the bottle and your milk will be well protected.

Nail a rubber shoe heel to the bottom of each leg of your ladder; then it will not slip or mar floors and is much safer for climbing.

Panhellenic Affiliates Nationally

In a gay luncheon meeting at The Ranch Club, Coachella Valley Panhellenic received the good news that it is now affiliated with the national organization, Mrs. John Blatt president of the desert group, read the official certificate attesting to this.

During its five years of existence Coachella Valley Panhellenic has been increasingly active. The present membership roster draws from the entire valley. All members belong to national social sororities, with many chapters and colleges represented. Luncheon meetings are held the second Thursday of each month.

For the Ranch Club luncheon, table decorations were in keeping with the western feeling of the club. Long tables, covered with red checkered tablecloths, were centered with red-brimmed western straw hats overflowing with white petunias. These were flanked with cowboy riders on prancing horses. Places were marked alternately with colorfull - dressed miniature cowboys and cowgirls.

Swinging into the spirit of things, Chef Eddie Martinez prepared his special chicken adobo, a gastromic delight! Dessert was also noteworthy, fresh pineapple, outrigger style.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Robert Backstrom and Mrs. John Bernet.

The following slate of officers for next season was unanimously approved: president, Mrs. Randall Henderson; alternate, Mrs. Robert Schlessinger; vice president, Mrs. Rene DeVaranne; alternate, Mrs. Thomas Carter; treasurer, Mrs. John Vale; alternate, Mrs. Ross Cunningham; secretary, Mrs. Harry Ramsey; alternate, Mrs. Gerald Fostvedt. These officers will be installed at the final meeting for the season to be held on Thursday, May 14. Hostesses will be Mrs. Edward Ruge and Mrs. Howard Robinson.

First Nighter Dinners End Year

Washington Governor Honored

Popular dining spot these warm desert evenings is the outside terrace at Oasis Hotel, where a smart dinner party was held early this week to honor Washington state's Governor and Mrs. Albert D. Rosellini, of Olympia. The Governor and his first lady are staying at the Oasis for a week's desert holiday.

Host for the out-door party was Robert Hays, of Seattle, also vacationing at the Oasis this week. Guests assembled on the softly lighted terrace where Hawaiian flares outline the dining area. Canapes and cocktails were served from long tables centered with colorful desert flowers and blossoms from the Oasis's nearby Orchid tree that is in full bloom right now.

Others in the party, who later dined by cande light, were Washington state's former governor, senator and congressman, Mon C. Walgren; Mrs. Walgren, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Ripley, formerly of Seattle and now living in Palm Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Richter (he's resident manager of the Oasis this year, and also formerly of Seattle), Charles Doyle of Thousand Palms and the host.

Governor and Mrs. Rosellini are to be found on the desert trails each morning, as both love horseback riding.

Also choosing the outside terrace of the Oasis for a recent dinner party was Mrs. Ward Magill, who has been at the Oasis for the entire season and will motor to San Francisco this week en route to her home in Wichita, Kansas. [illegible] will accompany Mrs. Magill north where they will have a reunion with a number of Oasis guests, who make their home in that city or are passing through en route to their homes in the northwest.

Redlands Group Has All Day Party at Oasis

It was a fun all-day party for a group of 160 women, who motored to the Oasis Hotel on Thursday from Redlands. The group known as the Redlands Breakfast Club, arrived before noon for a swim followed by brunch and later played cards in the hotel lounge.

In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Gordon Witer and Mrs. William B. Adams Jr., both of Redlands.

High School P-TA Panics Friday Night

When Palm Springs High School Parent - Teacher Association presents its annual P-TA Panic "Rollin 'Yest" Friday evening, April 17, in the high school auditorium one of the stellar attractions will be the appearance of Dr. Charles Webster who will perform a ballet on roller skates. Several comedy acts completely unrehearsed will be presented by faculty and parents, under the direction of school coach George Scholl.

This laugh riot will include the first appearance in Palm Springs of the original Pom Pon Girls in a hilarious song and dance routine. A poor man's "Peter Gunn" complete with a line of can can girls will also be on the program.

This promises to be a real fun night according to P-TA members and is open to the public for a donation of $1.

To remove burned-on stains from glass ovenware, fill vessel with water to which 2 tablespoons of vinegar have been added. Allow to set overnight and wash as usual.

A pastry brush is handy to clean crumbs from the toaster or grill.

Attach a shoe bag to a coat closet door for storing children's gloves, caps and scarves.

Mrs. Willard Parker New Head of Tamarisk C. C. Auxiliary

Tamarisk Country Club Women's Auxiliary gave one of their most important and gala luncheons when new officers were installed and prizes awarded to the winners in the Club's Championship Tournament.

Mrs. Willard Parker was installed as chairman. Others installed were: Mrs. Leonard Bock, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ellsworth Vines, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Heffernan, treasurer; Mrs. Al Boskin and Mrs. Harry Corman, tournament chairmen; Mrs. Stanley Rosin, handicap chairman; Mrs. David Holub, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Robert Blythe, house chairman; Mrs. Abe Levin, membership chairman; Mrs. Herman Fink and Mrs. George Binder, presize committee; Mrs. A. Berkman, Mrs. Isadore Singer, Mrs. Edgar Richards, Miss Verna Cate, advisory committee.

Mrs. David Holub, hospitality chairman, "reached way out there" this time, decorating the tables with a "Golfing Paradise" motif. Centering the U-shape tables seating fifty, were stretches of green lawn, palm trees, animated women golfers, and huge brandy snifters filled with gold and silver golf balls. Each guest received a favor of a gift-package containing a golf ball pencil holder.

Betsy Blashek Has Party on 6th Birthday

Betsy Blashek, six - year - old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blashek, was honor guest at a "Happy Birthday" party hosted by her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. David Margolis Tuesday evening at The Howard Manor.

A beautiful pink and white birthday cake was the highlight of the young Miss's evening. Ice cream was decorated with tiny parasols.

Guests for the pleasant celebration included, in addition to the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blashek, and Betsy, young Master Biff Blashek, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schiff of Columbus, Ohio, who are vacationing at The Howard Manor, Charles Weissman, the honoree's great-grandfather, and Henry Lehman Sr., of Buffalo, New York.

Birthday Tea Fetes Mother on Birthday

Mrs. Jack Copass went to Los Angeles to arrange a Birthday Tea for her 88-year-old mother Mrs. Margaret J. Montee. Mrs. Montee's niece Mrs. Cleo Filsinger of San Francisco, and Mrs. Lawrence Cotter of Hollywood, Mrs. Paul J. Huelat of Santa Cruz, and a granddaughter Mrs. Ted Andres of Anaheim were assistant hostesses at the affair which was given in Mrs. Montee's home.

The forty guests were served from a beautifully decorated table spread with point venise lace, with a centerpiece of pink roses, gladioli and white stock, flanked by pink tapers in silver candelabra.

Many gifts, an orchid corsage from her Palm Springs grandchildren Dianne and Jack Copass, a telephone visit with her son Harold Montee, vice president of Seaboard and Western Airlines Inc., helped make it a happy birthday.

Mrs. Montee has two living children, seven grandchildren, and nine great grandchildren.

Leather clothing should be dried at room temperature. Never hang near radiators, in sun or other strong light. This dries natural oils and fades colors.

LONGSHOTS SEE CHANCE IN DERBY

Wood Memorial May Trigger Large Field

By OSCAR FRALEY, United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—They'll run the Wood Memorial at Jamaica on Saturday and its outcome will decide whether they'll have a sweeping cavalry charge in the Kentucky Derby two weeks hence.

Three of the "big" colts of the year, First Landing, Atoll and Intentionally, will be among those going postward in the Wood. One of them will have to win it impressively.

Otherwise it's going to be Katie-bar-the-door for stall space at Churchill Downs.

ALREADY THERE is evidence that a great many owners of Derby eligibles feel this might be a year when anything could steal the big race. Domination by one overpowering colt always cuts down the Derby field. When a boss horse develops, the mob of long-shot hopefuls is swiftly reduced.

As example, you can go back to the 20-horse field, largest in recent years, which was attracted to the Derby in 1951. The race was won by Count Turf, a 15 to 1 shot who would have been 50 to 1 if he hadn't been hooked up in a five-horse field. The favorite was Battle Morn, but only because the wagering gentry were putting their rolls on his rider, Eddie Arcaro. Even Arcaro could not carry the colt, so they finished sixth.

THERE MAY BE another 20 trotting postward come May 2 at the Downs unless one of the big three Saturday does an impressive job. Proof of this are the vanloads of outsiders already being shipped into Louisville to get the feel of the track and wait out the situation.

Colts such as Sputnik and Waltz, which gives you an idea of the thinking around Horse Highway these days.

The Derby favorite at the moment is C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon, which arrived in Louisville Monday. Silver Spoon is a filly and, it is of note, no filly has won the Kentucky classic since Regret in 1915. Even Whitney seems to be backing off, however, what with this being the time of year when a filly's instincts turn to romance.

THE MERE FACT that there are a half-dozen others in the top choice class is weighty evidence that no colt has managed to stop front and center and crush the hopeful outsiders. In addition to First Landing, Atoll and Intentionally, there is much support for such as Easy Spur, Tomy Lee and Sword Dancer.

The Wood, at a mile and an eighth, one-eighth shorter than the Derby, hasn't proved much in recent years. Its winner always gets good Derby backing but the last Wood winner to repeat in the Derby was Assault, 'way back in 1946.

This time it shapes up somewhat differently. Atoll and Intentionally didn't race last winter, laying off as did Assault. Since the New York season opened, Atoll has won two stakes. Thus a top performance by Atoll could help clear the Derby picture and Intentionally could complicate it.

FIRST LANDING'S place in the Derby puzzle also is at stake. This colt set an all-time money winning record last year for two-year-olds but raced indifferently last winter. Since being rested, he has put on weight and reportedly is ready to return to his old form.

Eddie Arcaro must think so, too. He has chosen First Landing for the Wood over Atoll and must decide finally after this race which he'll ride in the big gallop at Louisville. It's a repeat of his 1942 dilemma when he had to choose between Devil Diver and Shut Out, finishing sixth with the Diver as Wayne Wright won with Shut Out. Willie Shoemaker has a like choice to make between Tomy Lee and Intentionally.

The jockeys and the owners all hope to get the inside information in the Wood Memorial. But just imagine where they'll be if some outsider pounds down in front Saturday afternoon.

Middlecoff Favored In Houston Classic

HOUSTON, Tex. — (UPI) — Cary Middlecoff, the golfing dentist from Memphis, Tenn., was the local favorite today to win his third $30,000 Houston Classic as competition opened at Memorial Park.

PLAYER FINED $250 FOR TAKING POKE AT HIMSELF—IN MIRROR

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Pitcher Dick Farrell of the Philadelphia Phillies admitted today he deserved his $250 fine for "conduct unbecoming a major league ball player."

Manager Eddie Sawyer slapped the fine on Farrell Wednesday when he learned the reliefer had vented his anger over losing a 10th inning decision Tuesday by swinging his fist at a mirror in a downtown bar washroom.

Everyone connected with the Phillies denied Farrell hurt his pitching hand in the incident.

"I'm all right to pitch," Farrel said. "And it won't happen again."

Indians at Perris For Last Road Game in Month

Palm Springs High School Indians took off today in their last road trip for a month, going to Perris for their sixth Riverside County League baseball game.

Starting next Tuesday they play seven straight games on their home lot — the Polo Grounds. The twist in the schedule which gave them six road games in a row was due to Sacramento's stay here to spring-train for the Pacific Coast League race.

THE SOLONS departed Wednesday and the Indians will now make up their lost home games with seven straight. They survived the road trips with but one loss — to date — and this morning were still in first place but having to share that spot with San Jacinto.

Hemet, in third spot, upset the Indians 10-1 Tuesday in a surprise shellacking.

NEXT WEEK'S games will still be on the Tuesday - Thursday basis, starting at 4 p.m. Starting Friday, May 1, games will be played Tuesday's and Friday's starting at 4:30 p.m.

Tuesday's batting slump which found the Tribe getting only four hits, one a triple by Leroy Segundo, left Second-baseman Marty Berk the only Indian who has hit safely in each of the five league games. His average is now an even .500.

Animal Shelter To Be Aided by Golf Tournament

A large field is expected to tee off next Tuesday in Bermuda Dunes Country Club's first annual Mixed Foursome tournament which will be a benefit for the Palm Springs Animal Protective League and their fund to build an animal shelter.

All proceeds from the tournament and from a cocktail party at the Bermuda Dunes clubhouse on Monday night will go toward the animal shelter.

LEFT AT THE POST

Pirates, Tigers Still Without Win in Race

By MILTON RICHMAN, United Press International

Please, somebody, open up that starting gate so poor Pittsburgh and Detroit can get out.

Here the season is only a week old and the Pirates and Tigers already have hit rock bottom with identical 0-5 records. If they don't get a move on soon, you can put a big black asterisk in front of both entries denoting "left at the post."

Pittsburgh and Detroit can console themselves by recalling the 1951 Giants lost 11 in a row during April and still came on to win the pennant.

CINCINNATI HANDED the Pirates their fifth straight loss, 10-5, Wednesday while unbeaten Cleveland stayed atop of the American League standings by dealing the Tigers their fifth consecutive setback, 2-1, in 10 innings.

The Yankees remained close at Cleveland's heels by beating Baltimore, 3-1, for their third straight triumph; the Athletics handed the White Sox their first loss of the campaign, 10-8, and the Red Sox beat the Senators, 7-3.

In the National League, the Dodgers licked the Cardinals, 5-0, and the Giants made it four out of five by defeating the Cubs, 7-1. The first-place Braves were idle, as were the Phillies.

DON DRYSDALE of the Dodgers struck out seven and gave up eight hits in curbing the Cardinals. Loser Larry Jackson startled the crowd of 14,491 at Los Angeles Coliseum by striking out six of the first nine batters to face him, but the Dodgers put together four singles for two runs in the fourth. Don Demeter homered in the sixth and Jim Baxes in the seventh as the Cards suffered their fourth loss in five games.

Orlando Cepeda, "low-bridged" by Moe Drabowsky in the second inning, slammed a pair of homers off the Cub right-hander — one in the fourth and another in the fifth — to pace the Giants to their victory. Felipe Alou also homered for the Giants, raising his season total to three.

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli struck out six and yielded only five hits in gaining his second victory.

Practice Rounds Under Way for Tamarisk Event

Practice rounds are under way today and will be tomorrow for the Eighth Annual Tamarisk Country Club Pro-Amateur tournament scheduled for this weekend at the club.

Two hundred players will engage in the two-day 36-hole event, one pro and three Tamarisk members or invited guests in each foursome.

The 50 pros are from Southern California clubs.

They are playing without the services of Frank Ripley, top junior netter who injured a knee in a basketball game and is out for three or four weeks.

Next week they face the crucial match of the season, against Hemet High, also undefeated in RCL play to date. This match is scheduled for Wednesday, April 22, at 3:30 p.m., here.

Yesterday's results at Banning:

Dear Ward:

In the Friday, March 20th issue of the Desert Sun we inserted a 3 column by 21 inches classified advertisement announcing the opening of our Spring Used Car Sale. In this ad we listed our complete stock of Used Cars, showing the stock number of each car and the sale price.

You will be interested to learn that from Friday afternoon, immediately after our ad appeared in the Desert Sun, up to Monday night we sold 8 Cadillacs, 3 Oldsmobiles and 3 other makes from a total of 32 cars listed.

We consider this amazing 3-day sales record strong and undeniable evidence that it pays to advertise; especially when potential buyers came in holding a copy of our ad and asking to see a particular car by its stock number.

We send this note to you because we are so pleased with the results of our classified advertising program in the Desert Sun; and we thought you should know.

Sincerely,

Conelrad Test Slated Friday

Almost all Southland radio and television stations will be "blacked out" for 30 minutes Friday morning during a coast-to-coast test of Conelrad, the nation's Civil Defense emergency broadcasting system.

The blackout, which affects almost all TV and AM and FM radio stations, will start at 8:30 a.m.

SPECIAL CIVIL defense broadcasts will be beamed to the public on Conelrad radio channels 640 and 1240 only during the period of "Operation Alert—1959" staged by the office of Civil and defense Mobilization.

Civil Defense officials said all broadcast radio and television stations are required to comply. During the test, some 1200 AM radio stations are to operate on 640 and 1240 kilocycles and some FM stations will paticipate in post-attack emergency network tests.

NO PUBLIC participation in the test is required, CD officers said, but Southland residents were asked to tune in their radios to the Conelrad frequencies for "vital civil defense announcements."

Emergency announcements dealing with situations which could occur during the drill will be part of the program, officials said.

Variance Board To Meet Friday

Only one public hearing was today listed on the Palm Springs Variance Board's Friday meeting agenda.

Hearing is scheduled for 2 p.m. on Wesley J. Adler's application for a parking variance to omit a 12-foot reserve strip between a side lot line and parking area on property located on Camino Roma, between Indian Avenue and Avenida Palo Verdes.

Latest figures show that there are in use one million trucks that are 12 or more years old.

BRITISH SPEED KING Donald Campbell, second from left, was invited to take a whack at desert golfing when Mayor Frank Bogert, right, and Ray Ryan presented him with a set of golf clubs and an honorary membership in Ryan's Bermuda Dunes Golf Club. The presentation marked Campbell's landing at Palm Springs Airport this week. Also on hand to greet Campbell, holder of the world's water speed record, were singer Patti Page and Mrs. Ryan, right. (Desert Sun Photo) surface that same night and Campbell went on to win his record.

"I'VE UPPED THE record two or three times since then," he noted, pointing out that 225 mph in 1956 and then the 288.66 last year in his "most exciting moment."

"I hadn't intended to let the boat run that fast, but there was an error in the instruments and we hit 288," he said.

Campbell explained that he never attempts to use his craft's potential all in one flash of speed.

"WE MUST PROCEED step by by step, you know," he pointed out. "One must proceed quietly in these things — we have lost many good men who proceeded too fast."

Campbell, who affably explains that his business is primarily engineering and research — "I have nothing to do with racing" — is the heir to a destiny of speed charted by his father, the late Sir Malcolm Campbell.

Sir Malcolm set nine land speed records. He was the first man to exceed 150 miles an hour, in 1925; and was the first man to reach 300 mph, in 1935.

"NOW I HOPE to move towards my ultimate goal," Campbell said. "That means 300 miles or more on water and 400 plus on land."

To Campbell, overlord of the exclusive fraternity of the world's speed kings, the 300 mile-an-hour water speed record is virtually a foregone conclusion.

His mighty Bluebird has proven its power and stamina.

But the Bluebird G. N. 7, the landlocked sister of the record-smashing boat, is a comparatively unknown quantity.

DESIGNED BY Campbell's Norris Brothers firm, Bluebird is motivated by a Bristol turbine engine developing an output of 4,100 horsepower.

"Here's a picture of the beast," Campbell said, exposing a photo of a sleek cigar-shaped vehicle whose glass smooth surface was disturbed only by the four aerodynamically shaped humps of its wheels.

Cost of developing the Bluebird —1 million pounds ($2,800,000). Top speed of the Bluebird—"about 500 miles an hour."

"OF COURSE, WE'RE not going to race in competition," Campbell remarked. "Our job is pure research."

Development of the Bluebird's tires alone cost about $300,000. But they're worth much more in research value for the Dunlop Tyre Co., of Birmingham, England—another of Campbell's affiliates."

"The object here is to get you a better tire," he pointed out, noting that the same rule applies to other components of his speedster.

CAMPBELL FIGURES his car will be ready for an initial test run by March, 1960. He plans to make his test and record runs at the Bonneville, Utah, salt flats—"the only place in the world we can use for this speed."

The present speed record of 394.196 mph for a measured mile was set at Bonneville by the late John Cobb in 1947.

Campbell, whose quick sense of humor belies the traditional picture of staid British calm, lives just south of London with his wife and daughter.

His wife, Toni, however, is currently "finishing her cabereting" at New York's St. Regis Hotel.

"SHE'S A SINGER," he explained, adding that "we were married Christmas Eve."

Though his speed runs across the waters of Lake Mead and Lake Coniston, England, range pretty far past the danger mark, Campbell's wife offers little protest.

"My wife is absolutely wonderful about it," he said.

In addition to his engineering and industrial pursuits, Campbell has acquired a yen for a new sport—treasure hunting.

HE'S THINKING about a voyage to the "treasure island" of Cocos, a thickly vegetated spot in the ocean 500 miles south of Panama. His father believed that several hoards of pirate treasure are buried there and Campbell's thinking of testing that theory.

"I'd like to go along," Ryan remarked, "so I'm trying to talk him into it."

Ryan and Campbell met on the French Riviera at Cannes two years ago and have been fast friends ever since, they confided.

BUT BOTH AGREE that any prospective treasure hunt must wait until Campbell guns his million-pound bomb for the speed record.

"Tell me, do you ever think you'll try to break the sound barrier on land?" queried publicist Joe Glaston.

"My dear sir," replied Campbell, with an affable smile and a raised British brow. "Aren't I in enough trouble already?"

Realtors Serve Village Through Leadership

The Palm Springs Real Estate Board announced today that many of its members are currently using their special knowledge and skills better to serve Palm Springs through leadership in government and various civic, business, and veterans' organizations. The Realtors have pledged to do even more in the future.

"As members of the local board, Realtors are particularly cognizant of the problems of our community," James Hammond, board president, said, as he directed attention to the observance of Realtor Week now under way here and throughout the nation.

"AS CIVIC LEADERS, they are doing much to solve these problems. Interests at the state level are the concern of Ernie Dunlevie who serves as regional vice president of the California Real Estate Association.

Still other Realtors, he said, serve in various key posts in the Kiwanis, Rotary and Exchange Clubs, and in veterans' organizations.

"WE INTEND TO take the advice of our 1959 president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, James M. Udall, of Los Angeles, who recommended that Realtors throughout the country become more active in civic affairs, in politics, in every phase of community life," Hammond declared.

The local real estate official made his announcement at a time when Realtors in hundreds of cities and towns are celebrating Realtor Week, a seven-day period devoted to acquainting the public with the civic and professional work of "Realtors—Those Pledged to an Established Code of Ethics."

According to latest figures 47 per cent of the cars on U.S. roads have automatic transmission.

Who, today, would think of moving into a house without a bathtub, or shower? But Catherine de Medici, luxury loving queen in France's colorful history had NO bathtub! She moved her court 90 times in six years so that the filthy rooms could be cleaned! The royal palace had no plumbing, no bathing or washing facilities.

Today, in the United States over 80% of homes have bathtub or shower, over 86% an inside toilet. We are using water at a greater rate than any other people in history.

And at our present rate of population increases, it is estimated that by 1975 there will be 227,000,000 Americans, using 50% more water than we do today!

We of Palm Springs Water Co., are keeping a watchful eye on the expanding needs of Palm Springs, and will be ready when the time comes simply by investing the capital today that will give you the water you will need tomorrow.
